Fear Of CIA Reported

COPYRIGHT

COLLEGE PARK — The president of the National Student Association said today that in breaking its relationship with the Central Intelligence Agency earlier this year, NSA officers were fearful of the consequences. W. Eugene Groves told some 1,500 delegates to the association's congress at the University of Maryland that during the break period Richard G. Stearns, association vice president, "was awakened at 4 a.m. to be read out of future service in the U.S. government by a CIA agent over the phone." Another NSA leader, Jim Johnson, "was frightened that he would be knocked off on the street corner that week in Washington," Groves said. He did not amplify on this statement.

Tests Ordered On Drugs

WASHINGTON — New long-range tests have been ordered for birth control drugs, both those now on the market and those still in the experiment stage. But there are no government plans to halt the sale of the drugs now in general use. The Food and Drug Administration ordered the testing when it was found that dogs and monkeys developed abnormal breast tissue after receiving MK-665, an experimental drug. Four of six dogs developed breast cancer. The monkeys developed an abnormality known as atypical hyperplasia which the FDA said could be, but probably is not, a forerunner of cancer. MK-665 also had been tested on 340 women but these tests were halted early last year after the results of the dog experiments became known.

TON — West German Foreign Minister Willy Brandt was due to arrive here today to join Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger for an official visit—Kiesinger's first since becoming chancellor last December. The West German leaders meet with American officials tomorrow and Wednesday, including President Johnson, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. Kiesinger and his wife, who arrived yesterday, will be in Washington about a week, spending much of their time with their daughter and American son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Volkmar K. Wentzel of Washington.

Britain Seen 'Dying'

COPYRIGHT

LONDON — In something like the decline and fall of the Roman Empire, Britain is dying for lack of cause, poverty of spirit and inferior lives now that it is less important in world affairs, an Anglican churchman says. "The nation seems unable to accept that it is no longer the great power in world terms that it used to be and does not seem to be seriously asking itself the question where its true future lies," Canon Douglas Rhymes said in sermon at Southwark Cathedral.

Congot Sends More Troops

BRUSSELS — Quoting Radio Kinshasa, the Belgian Radio announced today that the Congolese government had sent reinforcements for a battle against the rebellious mercenaries holding the Kivu capital, Bukavu. The reinforcements, the Congolese Radio announced, were being airlifted through Burundi. The Congolese Radio also said that 15,000 Congolese soldiers were now ready to oust Jean Schramm, and his army of about 1,000 mercenaries and Katanga troops from Bukavu.

Tito Seeks To Help Arabs

CAIRO — Yugoslav President Tito has begun visiting Socialist Arab countries involved directly in the war with Israel in an effort to help Arab leaders find an acceptable way out of the present deadlock over Israeli possession of territory captured in the war. No immediate results are expected, but observers believe his mission will be a success if it brings the Arabs to reconsider and take what Tito called a more realistic approach toward a peace formula with the victorious Israelis. Arab discussions so far have centered on "means of removing the traces of Israeli aggression."
